

Forcing a License Revalidation

To force a license revalidation, while logged in visit `/admin/license` in your browser. If you have updated the routes such that your admin directory is in a different location, use that location `/license` instead.

It may be necessary to force a license revalidation after purchasing additional companies so that your installation recognizes the new companies that are available to your license.